Academic Program Approvals
AY 2022-23

Prepared by the Office of the Provost

The following new academic programs were approved by the Office of the Provost during the 2022-23 Academic Year.

College of Arts and Sciences
Department of Sociology—Minor in Race & Ethnicity

The Graduate School and the College of Arts and Sciences
Department of Computer Science—Doctoral Degree in Computer Science

School of Continuing and Professional Studies
Master of Professional Studies in Information Technology Leadership and Strategy
Accelerated BA Management and Master of Professional Studies in Instructional Design

Parkinson School of Health Sciences and Public Health
Department of Applied Health Studies—Minor in Nutrition

Quinlan School of Business and School of Environmental Sustainability
Baumhart Center for Social Enterprise and Responsibility—Environmental, Social, and Governance Certificate