Scope & Content

These records reflect primarily the work of Alice Bourke Hayes, Ph.D., as Associate Academic Vice President, 1980-1987, and Vice President for Academic Affairs from July 1, 1987, until her resignation in May of 1989. Also included are files of James D. Barry, Vice President and Assistant to the President, and Deborah Lott Holmes, successor to Dr. Hayes. The records are divided into four series as follows:

SERIES 1: ACADEMIC COUNCIL OF THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES, 1980-1987. Box 1

This series relates to the responses of Dr. Hayes to minutes of the Academic Council of the College of Arts and Sciences and is composed primarily of correspondence, memoranda, proposals, reports, policies, and minutes. Subjects include "plus/minus" grading proposal, increase in number of hours for a B.S. in mathematics and computer science, proposal for major in mathematics and statistics, A.B. in Chemistry, music minor, anthropology major, writing program and its chronology, Project SPIRIT, financial aid, admission and retention of students, policy on interdisciplinary courses, withdrawal policy, approval of Issues in Feminism for core credit, natural science requirement, mathematics requirement, and foreign language requirement. Major correspondents are Lawrence Biondi, S.J., Acting Dean and later Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; and Thomas L. Hogan, S.J., and his successor, Suzanne Gossett, Ph.D., who served as chairs of the Academic Council of the College of Arts and Sciences. The files are arranged chronologically.

SERIES 2: BOARD OF UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES (B.U.G.S.), 1980-1987. Box 1

This series is relates to the responses of Dr. Hayes to minutes of the Board of Undergraduate Studies (B.U.G.S.) and is composed primarily of correspondence and minutes. Subjects include admission standards and policies, transfer credit, grading system, grading policies, academic honesty/plagiarism, computerization of registration, honors graduation requirements, mathematics remediation program, English proficiency requirements, writing proficiency requirements, academic amnesty/"forgiveness clause," policy for senior citizens, minimum academic progress, undergraduate academic grievance procedure, quality of entering students, student athletes, and measuring outcomes of a Loyola education. Correspondents include Dean Donald G. Meyer, Dean Gerald L. Gutek, and Dr. Ralph L. Pearson, who successively chaired the Board of Undergraduate Studies. The files are arranged chronologically.

SERIES 3: FEDERAL, STATE, AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT PROGRAMS, 1978-1988.
Boxes 2 - 4

This series is composed of correspondence, reports, guidelines, surveys, statistics, grant proposals, institutional profiles, and other materials relating to federal, state, and local government requirements and programs. Included here are Affirmative Action, Build Illinois, HEGIS [Higher Education General Information Survey], IBHE [Illinois Board of Higher Education], and the Mayor's [City of Chicago] Educational Summit on which Dr. Hayes served as a member of the School/College Partnership Work Group. This latter group considered the state of the Chicago Public Schools, Upward Bound, and Loyola's continuing education opportunities for high school teachers, retention programs, and racial/ethnic minority enrollment and degrees conferred. Build Illinois files of James D. Barry, Vice President and Assistant to the President, are also included. The files are arranged alphabetically and chronologically thereafter.

SERIES 4: LOYOLA-MELLON GRANTS, 1985-1991. Box 4

Grant proposals, budget materials, correspondence, flyers, and other materials relating to the Mellon grant proposals which were funded by the Mellon Foundation and administered through the office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The files are arranged numerically and chronologically within each folder.
