

Passion & Resurrection: Gospel Narratives

With Dorothy Jonaitis, D.Min.
Online Aug. 26, 2024 to Dec. 14, 2024

Each of the gospel writers “provides us with a profoundly distinctive contribution to our understanding of Jesus and his saving acts.”
- Stephen J Blinz

- Explore each gospel writer's passion narrative for its similarities but, more importantly, its uniqueness considering the context of each gospel text
- Highlight the primary purpose of each resurrection narrative as conclusion of that gospel's primary message
- Discuss implications of these texts for a greater understanding of the saving events of Jesus, their use in the cycle of liturgical readings, and their applications to our faith lives

You will have full access to the online course experience! The group will meet online via Zoom:

MONDAYS 5:30PM – 7:00PM (central)

Dorothy Jonaitis, D.Min.
Adjunct Assistant Professor
Institute of Pastoral Studies
Loyola University Chicago

Take a Fall Class at IPS!

Refresh Your Theological
Thinking and Pastoral Practice

Sit in on a graduate class and explore together the latest research from a theological and pastoral perspective.

$500

REGISTER

Email Mirta Garcia
mgarcia29@luc.edu

CONTACT

Julie Garcia
Institute of Pastoral Studies
jgarcia33@luc.edu

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

- Have access to a computer with Internet.
- Have a personal email address by which to receive and send pertinent communications.