Biographical History

Helen Sauer Brown was born Helen Irene Sauer on February 7, 1923 in Findley, Ohio to parents Joseph Thomas and Mary Sweeney Sauer. Shortly after her birth, her family moved to Cicero, Illinois. She attended high school at Nazareth Academy in La Grange, Illinois, and received her B.A., magna cum laude, in Classics at Mundelein College, Chicago, in 1944. After marrying Thomas Brown and raising nine children, Helen Sauer Brown returned to Mundelein College for her M.A., summa cum laude, in Religious Studies, received in 1970. While a graduate student, she was named an Archdiocese of Chicago Cardinal Meyer Scholar. She served on the Mundelein College Board of Trustees from 1972 to 1979 and 1981 to 1991, and was president of the Alumnae Association from 1966-67.

Ms. Brown dedicated her spare time to volunteerism within the community and church while raising her children. In 1967 she started teaching Religion at Nazareth Academy, where she remained for five years. She served as President of a religious education consulting service called Religious Education Services from 1972 to 1976, offering personnel and program development to local churches, and conducting training programs for teachers of religion. As a pastoral minister, she coordinated church retreats and workshops, and became a reader at St. Francis Xavier Church.

During the 1960s, Ms. Brown traveled to Washington, D.C., as a peace activist, and to Springfield, Illinois as an organizer of the Equal Rights Amendment on behalf of the Illinois Catholic Women. Throughout her life, she has remained dedicated to peace, women's equality, and the teachings of the church.

In the mid-1970s, Helen Sauer Brown became a retail entrepreneur, owning and operating a home furnishings business in La Grange, Illinois. She held positions in several business organizations, including the first woman presidency of the West Suburban Chamber of Commerce, and received the Outstanding Working Woman of Illinois Award in 1993 for her accomplishments. The Community Family Service and Mental Health Association, for which Ms. Brown served as President of the Board, hired her as Director of Resource Development, a position she held through the mid-1990s. She was involved in the fund-raising of this organization as a certified fund-raising executive. In honor of her great lifetime achievements, she was named to “Who’s Who in American Women” for 1997-8. Helen Sauer Brown exemplified a commitment to family, work, community, and church throughout her life of service.

Helen Sauer Brown passed away on March 24, 2016.

Scope and Content

These papers are divided into two series based on Helen Sauer Brown’s arrangement.

Series 1, Personal and Family Papers, 1944-2002, Box 1, includes photographs, wedding and anniversary mementos, award applications, statements on War Tax Resistance and the Equal Rights Amendment, and newspaper clippings. This series gives a good overview of the many activities she pursued throughout her life.

Series 2, Academic Papers, Master’s Degree, 1969-1970, Box 1, contains papers, reports, exams, and class notes written by Helen Sauer Brown during her graduate studies at Mundelein College. Because she pursued Religious Studies for her Master’s degree, the papers within this series reveal many of her thoughts and ideas about religion.
